History of St. Patrick's Day

St. Patrick's Day celebrates the Irish culture. In 1962, pollution control workers used dye to discover illegal discharges within the sewage system. They then decided the green dye would be a great way of celebrating the Irish culture.

History of Leprechauns

Leprechauns are the joyful things that are Irish and green, but we ask ourselves, why do leprechauns have a place in Saint Patrick's Day? Well, it has a lot to do with their history. Their history and the Ireland history also has a part in it too. Leprechauns used to actually be red to signify Ireland. Leprechauns are the reason why we should wear green because green makes us "invisible" to leprechauns since they like to pinch anyone they can see.

Lincoln Lady Railers

On Friday, March 3rd, we got to experience the joy of our Lady Railers girls basketball team heading to their first state game of the season! In this game, our own Chloe Froebe broke two state records! One of scoring over 1,000 points in a single season, and the other of setting a high score for the most points scored in a single game by one player (at least 40 points). We are so proud of her and the entire team for their accomplishments!

Sadly, on Saturday, March 4th, our Lady Railers did not win their second state game against Nazareth. However, they were later escorted home by a fleet of police cars and fire trucks. This was such a great feat for our girls, and I'm sure they will treasure their memories of going to state!
